Description

KOZO backpack with laptop pocket

Good for the back and kind to the environment.

If you are looking for a backpack that is both comfortable and durable, then the KOZO ergonomic backpack is the perfect choice for you. This backpack has a stylish Scandinavian design that suits all occasions, whether you're going to work, school or on a trip. It also has a practical compartment with padding where you can store your computer safely and conveniently.

KOZO backpack is made of RPET material, which is a recycled material that comes from PET bottles. RPET is a more environmentally friendly alternative to regular plastic, as it reduces waste and saves energy and resources. RPET is also a durable and light material that lasts a long time.

This backpack has a more ergonomic design that distributes the weight evenly across the back and shoulders. It also has adjustable straps and a padded backrest that gives you optimal comfort and support. It is available in two stylish colors, Olive and Charcoal, which suit both men and women. It also has two small pockets on the outside with a zipper where you can store small things like keys, wallet or mobile phone.

KOZO backpack is the perfect combination of function, style and durability. It will definitely become your favorite!
