Short Description

An advanced, four-line function calculator with an accurate readability display. The calculator includes a variety of mathematical functions.

Suitable for use alongside computer software. This model allows the values of two functions to be examined simultaneously in a function table.

Description

Four-line display

Statistics for one or two variables

The MathPrint™ screen displays multiple calculation tasks on the screen at the same time

Select degrees / radians, variable / fixed decimal mode

Choose from three solvers: a numeric equation, a polynomial equation, or a group of linear equations.
Display function values in tabular form
Determine the numerical derivative and the integral of real functions
Create vectors and matrices using the Vectors and Matrices input window
